HOW U OF T USERS ACCESS E-RESOURCES HAS CHANGED!

Due to recent changes in library IT infrastructure, direct access to some e-resource platforms is no longer available.

To access e-resources off-campus, your best bet is to locate them by using the Library Catalog.

If you prefer to use bookmarks, simply add the following prefix to your bookmarks:

- <https://myaccess.library.utoronto.ca/login?url=>
- e.g. <https://myaccess.library.utoronto.ca/login?url=https://www.jstor.org/>

For further strategies about how to access e-resources off-campus, visit UTL's FAQ page. Please direct questions to Library Help.

In this newsletter you will find:

Our syllabus service, new acquisitions, extended hours, and more.

Law Library Syllabus Service

SUBMIT YOUR 2024 SYLLABUS FOR COPYRIGHT CLEARANCE

We are now accepting Winter 2024 course syllabi for copyright review.

As part of our Instructional Support program, the Law Library's Syllabus Service assists faculty and staff at the University of Toronto with making course readings available to students, while respecting Canadian copyright law and U of T licensing agreements and policies. We strive to supply instructors with the all the required readings they need to teach their course.

Please submit the final version of your syllabus by Thursday, November 30, 2023 to law.infoexpress@utoronto.ca.
