New or Updated Resources:

Justis Publishing is launching a new service platform. In addition to the comprehensive collection of reported and unreported UK cases, UK statutes, and UK case law citator, the following databases will be added:

- Canadian Core | Australian Core | New Zealand Core
- JILL collection (collection of unreported cases from Ireland)
- Carilaw Cases (entire archive 45,000+ cases)

A demo/training session will take place on May 4, 2018, at 10:00 am, in Room P363 (upper floor of the Library). Everyone is welcome to attend.

“The London Review of International Law is an online only, peer-reviewed journal for critical, innovative and cutting-edge scholarship on international law. The journal’s essential mission is to publish high-quality research. At the same time, it is a specific aim of the London Review to support and foster the emergent body of work being undertaken in the areas of international legal theory, international legal history and international socio-legal studies.”
CanLII is expanding its freely accessible collection of legal commentary to include law journals. Issues dating back to 2015 have been loaded, with plans for additional years of coverage over time. Participating law reviews include:

- Alberta Law Review
- Appeal: Review of Current Law and Law Reform
- Canadian Bar Review (coming soon)
- Canadian Journal of Comparative and Contemporary Law
- Canadian Journal of Human Rights
- Dalhousie Journal of Legal Studies
- Justice As Healing (coming soon)
- McGill Journal of Dispute Resolution
- McGill Journal of Law and Health
- McGill Journal of Sustainable Development Law
- Ottawa Law Review
- University of New Brunswick Law Journal (coming soon)

Your Librarians

At a recent faculty workshop, Susan Barker, our Digital Services and Reference Librarian, led an informative session titled: “Owning Your Story: What Comes After SSRN”. She talked about things to consider when choosing a digital repository, and some practical ways to take control and manage your scholarly reputation. Please contact Susan if you would like to want to discuss further. Handout

Alexia Loumankis, who worked with us on contract from 2015 to 2017, has accepted the permanent status stream role of Reference and Research Librarian, commencing on May 1, 2018. She is a graduate of U of T and has over 8 years of experience working at the Ministry of the Attorney General. Welcome back!
