Law Faculty Scholarship

Anna Szot-Sacawa, our Circulation Supervisor has proudly exhibited recent Faculty of Law scholarship in our beautiful new display case, located on the main floor of the Bora Laskin Law Library.

Librarians on the Leading Edge Conference November 30, 2018, Osgoode Hall Law School

Law librarians from York and UofT organized a one-day workshop focusing on topics that are trending in Canadian law schools; how they are impacting law libraries and how libraries can address many of these issues.

We would like to especially thank Professor Benjamin Alarie for his insightful session on the impact of Artificial Intelligence on legal education and academic law libraries. He was a fan favourite for sure!

On Demand Research Assistance

If you are in need of short-term research assistance, we have a roster of highly competent RAs "On Demand". Please send your request to InfoEXPRESS.

Please note that the RAs are paid out of the faculty member's research funds.

The Casebook Project

Images of title pages, tables of content, notes, editorials and any additional original content provided by the author, are being captured and being made accessible in the Bora Laskin Law Library Casebook Collection on the Internet Archive. To date, 4,739 titles are available; we expect the final count to be about 5,000 casebooks. The full original print copies of these materials are retained by the University of Toronto Libraries and may be requested on demand.

The Casebook Project is made possible through the generous sponsorship of The University of Toronto Libraries and in partnership with the Internet Archive.

A big thank you to library staff members Bonnie Thompson, Anna Szot-Sacawa, who spear-headed this project and to all her Student Library Assistants for many hours of diligence and commitment to this important access to information initiative.

Happy Retirement

After 41 years of devoted service, our colleague and dear friend Nancy Chung retired from the Bora Laskin Law Library on December 21, 2018. We miss her already and wish her only the very best.

Welcome Back

Gian Medves, our Chief Law Librarian is now back from his six-month Research Leave. Thank you to John Bolan, who stepped in to lead the Bora Laskin Law Library in the interim.

It is time to start brushing up your poetry skills for the @laskinlawlib Second Annual Poetry Competition (not just limericks this time). Details to follow.

InfoEXPRESS Extra is a monthly newsletter created to provide our Faculty with information about library news & services, resources, new acquisitions and more. If you have any questions, comments, or requests, please send them to law.infoexpress@utoronto.ca.
